

Initial Letter Game

The initial letter of a word is the first letter - the letter that starts the word. In this activity, you need to work out the initial letter of each word, using the pictures to help you. Then, sort them into groups of words that have the same initial letter.

You will need:

- Word Cards (included in this resource)
- Initial Letter Cards (included in this resource)
- A4 thin card or paper
- scissors
- pen, pencil or dry wipe pen
- sticky notes (optional)

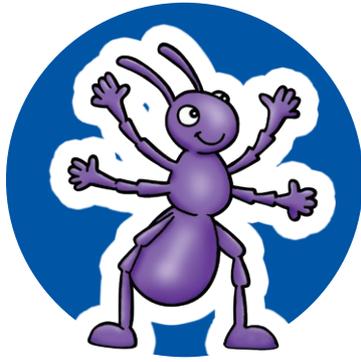

Instructions

1. Print out the word cards and initial letter cards onto A4 thin card or paper.
2. Carefully, cut them out (an adult might need to do this).
3. If possible, laminate the cards or cover them in sticky-back plastic to make them more durable.
4. Shuffle the word cards and lay them out on a table or other surface. You can also have the initial letter cards in a group on the table, so you can see them.

5. Can you work out the initial letter that is missing from each word? The picture should help you.
6. Fill in the letter using a pen or pencil. If you've laminated the cards, you can use a dry wipe pen (then the letters can be erased and the cards can be used again another time).
7. Now, sort the words according to their initial letter. All words with the same initial letter need to be in the same group. Use the initial letter cards to help you sort them.
 - How many words are in each group?
 - Which words have initial letters that sound similar or could be confused?
 - Can you add any other words to each group? Grab some sticky notes and write some words that could fit into each group.
